Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Detailed Action

1. In claim 49, line 2 change NDN to MDN.

In claim 5, the last two lines of he claim should be deleted.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 46 and 54 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Wing.

With respect to claim 46, Wing teaches a transmitting device 200 comprising: an inputting device 224 configured to receive a request for transmitting image information to a receiving device 222; a transmitting unit (gateway 206) configured to transmit the image information to the receiving device 222; a mailing creating unit 208 configured to create a mail for notifying a result of the transmission of the image information after the transmission of the image information is completed and a mail transmitting unit 218 to transmit the mail to the address corresponding to the request.

With respect to claim 55, Wing teaches a transmitting device 200 comprising: an inputting device 202, configured to receiving a request for transmitting image information to a receiving device 222; a transmitting unit (gateway 206) configured to transmit the image information to the receiving device 222; first mail creating unit 208 configured to create the first mail for notifying successful transmissions as claimed; first mail transmitting unit 218 for the purpose claimed; second mail creating unit 212 as claimed and a second mail transmitting unit 220 configured to transmit the second mail to the address according to the request.

Claims 47-50 and 56-59 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wing.

With respect to claims 47-50 and 56-59, see col. 7, lines 7-11 of the Wing reference which teaches the regulation of the MDN and the DSN as claimed.

What is not shown by the reference is that the DSN or the MDN is not in the mailer but is in unit 206.

However, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art as a matter of design, to modify the mailer creating unit 208 so that it creates the notification instead of the unit 206. Since applicant does not suggest why one unit for providing the notification is preferred over the other, it would have been obvious to modify Wing so that the notification is provided in unit 208 as opposed to unit 206.

Claims Objected to As Containing Allowable Matter

Claims 51-54 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
